SCOPE of SERVICES
For the
McKenzie and Mountain Meadows Creek Restoration Projects
RE: Lead Agency and CEQA Compliance

ROLE of the LEAD AGENCY

The lead agency is the public agency with primary responsibility over a proposed project. In accordance with CEQA Guidelines Section 15051 (b) (1), “the lead agency will normally be the agency with general governmental powers, such as city or county, rather than an agency with a single or limited purpose.” Based on the above criteria, the Honey Lake Valley Resource Conservation District (HLVRCD) will serve as the lead agency for the proposed restoration projects at McKenzie Meadows and Mountain Meadows Creek.

APPROACH

Plumas Corporation will prepare the necessary documentation for meeting the goal of full compliance under the California Environmental Quality Act (CEQA) for two separate meadow restoration projects, either via the Statutory Exemption for Ecological Restoration Projects or the Initial Study/Mitigated Negative Declaration process. The HLVRCD will review, organize, file and adopt all necessary documentation in compliance with the CEQA Guidelines. The HLVRCD’s Board and staff time was pledged as a cost-share to Plumas Corporation’s funding proposal to WCB. The work effort and value for HLVRCD’s time is estimated as follows:

Project	Personnel	Hours	Rate	Total Amount	Notes
Mountain Meadows Creek	District Manager	20	$40.00	$800.00	Based on $32/hr with 25% fringe
McKenzie Meadows	District Manager	20	$40.00	$800.00	Based on $32/hr with 25% fringe
Mountain Meadows Creek	Board Members	5	$68.00	$340.00	Based on Bd member's consulting rate; 5 Bd members x 1 hr each
McKenzie Meadows	Board Members	5	$68.00	$340.00	Based on Bd member's consulting rate; 5 Bd members x 1 hr each
TOTAL ESTIMATED COST-SHARE CONTRIBUTION:				$2,280.00

The HLVRCD will track time spent on the project, and provide updates upon request to Plumas Corporation. The minimum cost-share commitment is provided in the above table; any additional time worked on the project is not required to be reported but would be considered an additional cost-share to the project.

Exhibit A – Scope of Work

Point Blue Conservation Science

Point Blue Conservation Science (Point Blue) is the Project’s lead in conducting ecological monitoring. Point Blue brings a wealth of wildlife, meadow ecology, and ecological monitoring expertise. They have been conducting ecological monitoring in the Sierra Nevada and Lassen County region for over 9 years. Point Blue’s scientists guide restoration design, implementation, and ongoing management, as well as assess results to optimize restoration outcomes. Point Blue will bring their expertise in conservation science, monitoring, and climate-smart restoration to inform management and monitoring for the property.

FRAMEWORK

Term of Monitoring

The timeframe of monitoring described in this plan is 3 years. The proposed grant term (April 2022– June 2024) has been defined to allow for additional baseline monitoring plus monitoring over 2 full grazing seasons.

Metrics to be Monitored

Point Blue will monitor the Project’s ecological metrics, which includes focal bird richness and abundance, organic soil carbon, soil compaction, and greenhouse gas fluctuation. Point Blue will also assemble and distribute monitoring reports. The Honey Lake Valley RCD will monitor vegetation changes due to grazing management, meadow restoration, native plant restoration, and noxious weed removal through photo monitoring.

Monitoring to be Performed During Grant Term

Ecological Data. Ecological monitoring during each year of the grant’s anticipated three-year term will include avian sampling (2 visits/year between May 15-July 1), greenhouse gas flux monitoring (Spring, Summer and Fall), and photo monitoring (Spring 2022, after grazing 2022, Spring 2023, after grazing 2023, and Spring 2024). Soil carbon and compaction will be measured in year one and year three.

Monitoring and Management Beyond the Term of the Grant

Point Blue expects to be able to continue some of the monitoring as part of the Rangeland Monitoring Network. Their goal is to monitor key metrics at intervals over the next decade to assess long-term trends, as many of the measures require longer time periods to manifest (e.g. bird habitat, soil carbon). A final monitoring report and analyzation of data will occur after the end of the grant term in June 2024.

Project Reporting

The existing monitoring as well as first year monitoring will help inform the Project’s Baseline Conditions Report produced before the restoration activities take place. Following and during project implementation, project monitoring will support the Project’s Annual Monitoring Reports, which Point Blue will generate and share with DOC and partners.

The Annual Monitoring Reports will evaluate project progress towards longer-term outcomes and provide recommendations to inform revision of future management actions. This evaluation will employ a before and after framework to evaluate changes in the ecological metrics monitored. Where possible, data will be collected at control locations in the watershed, allowing for a more powerful Before-After-Control-Impact approach.

Point Blue anticipates evaluating changes in project metrics over time and allow the team to control for variation in sampling locations beyond the main effect. For each metric the sampling unit will be the point count station.
